A Welcome and An Invitation

This list of some of the books added to the Library recently, the first issue for this fall, is addressed especially to the many newcomers to our faculty. I am sure that our other faculty members join us in welcoming you to our campus and in hoping that your association with the University of New Mexico will be pleasant, profitable, and a satisfying personal and professional experience.

To those of you who are new, the entire library staff joins me in welcoming you and inviting you to the Library. Our library facilities have been developed cooperatively by the faculty, administration and library for you and your students, and the library staff will be happy to help you in any way possible in getting acquainted with our library resources and using them to their maximum effectiveness. I am sure that you will find the entire library staff competent, courteous and friendly.

Our Library, with 139,000 volumes, is small as university libraries go, but its collections are newer than most and very carefully selected to meet our own research and teaching needs. We will spend about $45,000 this year for library materials, and have been adding over 1,200 volumes a month. Most of this book fund is allocated to departmental accounts, to be expended by the instructional departments. We also have a Graduate School book fund of $10,000 for the purchase of standard sets and research works that cannot be bought readily from departmental accounts. I hope that you will assist in selecting the books useful for your department and your own courses, and turn in orders to your department head; it is only by your cooperation that we can make our limited book and periodical budget provide a good and effective though limited library. Many of you are bringing new specializations, or are teaching subjects new to the University; you may need a large number of new books.

The Library also has considerable materials besides books. We receive several thousand journals and other serials currently (926 journals by subscription and others by exchange and gift); a list of these is at the reference desk and another copy in the Technical Processes Division, and we have the standard periodical indexes. We are a depository of the Federal Government, and receive all documents that it distributes. Other collections, usually not entered in the main catalog, consist of maps, microfilms, sound recordings, archives, manuscripts, pamphlets, O.S.R.D. reports, and pictures.

To supplement our own resources, we will borrow for you on inter-library loan any books or journals that you may need, if we do not have them and cannot buy them readily. You will find the Union List of Serials and the L.C. Depository (a list on cards of the author entries in the Library of Congress) useful in locating such material. We also have other major bibliographical tools, but no excess bibliographical fat.

All of us in the Library want you to feel that we are here to serve you. We invite you to use our resources and our respective abilities, in various departments, freely. We will appreciate particularly your calling deficiencies in our collections to the attention of your department head or to us, for only by learning about them can we correct them. Finally, I hope that you can find time, during the course of the year, to drop in at my office for a chat.

Sincerely

Arthur M. McAnally
Librarian

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

One Hundred Influential American Books Printed Before 1900. Grolier Club, 1947

This most interesting and in some instances unusual list ranges from the Bay Psalm Book in 1640 to Veblen's Theory of the Leisure Class in 1899. In between are listed what the club thought were the most important books of the United States. Each item described and the reasons for inclusion given.

History and literature are quite well represented; for the former, the term "book" is interpreted loosely to permit inclusion of the Declaration of Independence and similar items. In addition to historical and literary items, the list also includes the first Montgomery Ward Catalog, Mrs. Lincoln's Boston Cook Book, a dime novel, a detective story, medical items, Webster's first speller, almanacs, humor, economics, legal and religious items, and a temperance novel, Ten Nights in a Barroom. Incidentally, the editors pay quite a tribute to the Montgomery Ward catalog.

The University Library has 81 of the items, while we lack 9 children's books, 4 religious items, and 6 miscellaneous works such as Webster's Grammatical Institute, Beaumont's Experiments and Observations on the Gastric Juice, and the Montgomery Ward Catalog (we have Sears, Roebuck, however). Usually we do not have the rare first editions, but later reprints.

"Jemez and the Archeologists?" (Erna Fergusson tells this story of a pueblo Indian skit in her newest book, Albuquerque (Albuquerque, 1947):

"The fun makers, in an intermission of the dance, put on a pantomime of archeologists digging. With cameras, brushes, picks and magnifying glasses they crowded around their leader - handling clods of earth reverently from hand to hand, muttering, laying each pebble carefully in a box and writing voluminous notes. The digging grew swifter, dirt flew, the diggers' bent shoulders hid the scene entirely. Then one of them raised aloft a chamber pot while the others fell back in astonishment.

"It must be," said the leader with bated breath, "it can only be ceremonial."

Other anecdotes concern how the University came to Albuquerque, how statehood was won, a famous will, etc. The main part of the book is a very interesting account and estimate of Albuquerque past and present, recommended to all.

Use Your Book Funds!

Departmental Library Book Fund allocations not encumbered before April 1 will revert to the Library Committee, and be allocated to other departments. This provision is necessary to prevent loss of book funds at the end of the fiscal year, and the early date is set to permit spending of the re-allocated funds before June 30.

Publishing in New Mexico

In making a display of books published in New Mexico recently, I discovered several publishers who have issued in excellent format a number of distinguished works. Besides the University Press, there are the Rydal Press, Writers Editions (ceased), the Laboratory of Anthropology, and several ephemeral publishers, all in Santa Fe, and Carl Hertzog in El Paso. Or is El Paso in Texas?

Jean-Paul Sartre, Franz Kafka, Henry Miller

These three leaders of radical or advance guard literary movements are respectively a live Frenchman, a dead German, and only the last an American, an expatriate American at that. We have various books of all three, but only the mailable works of Miller. Much of his work is rather earthy.

Sincerely

Arthur M. Annally
Librarian

LIBRARY BOOK LIST

University of New Mexico Library
March 1, 1948

Notable Books

Fifty Notable Books of 1947, is a selection made by the American Library Association. This list "aimed to include adult books which seemed outstanding because of their usefulness, their timeliness, or their contribution to permanent literature published during 1947". Fiction has a prominent place but many books on the list will not be "best sellers". The President's Committee on Civil Rights, with To Secure These Rights (323.4 Un33t) has made the list, also A Free and Responsible Press by the Commission on Freedom of the Press (323.44 C737f). President J. B. Conant's On Understanding Science, and Bill Mauldin's Back Home, illustrate the wide range of the list which also includes history, travel, biography, international relations, literary history - to mention but a few of the subjects represented. The complete list appears in the A. L. A. Bulletin for February, 1948.

Gifts and Exchanges

Recently the Library has received three especially fine gifts. Mrs. Lolita Pooler presented the Library with more than 325 volumes from her personal collection, many of which have already been added to the Library. The University of Colorado Library has given us on exchange 136 volumes in the earlier years of the Congressional Serial Set, which fill as many gaps in our set. Dr. Joaquin Ortega was instrumental in securing for our Library, through David Greenwood, a valuable collection of the Hans Otto Storm papers, letters, typescripts, and a first edition of his Pity the Tyrant.

Report from Abroad

Mr. McAnally arrived in Lima, Peru in the midst of a fiesta, but this does not mean that his task and sojourn there will be one long fiesta (nor siesta), for he has found a library of about 150,000 volumes "classified by accession number". He has not divulged the secret of locating any given book by this system!

Home Report

We do not guarantee to carry on the Library Book List in the McAnally tradition, but now and then we shall prepare a list of current additions to the Library, though the front page occasionally may be missing. Problems and uncertainties arise by being suddenly shifted from among the "driven" to a "driver's seat". From a cataloger's viewpoint, and apropos of the simplified cataloging which is invading many libraries, we submit:

FROM A CATALOGER'S COMMONPLACE BOOK

- | | | |
|------------------------|---|--|
| (The Cataloger) | Monsieur Froidefond has a simple spirit and a pure soul. He lives catalogically. Of all the volumes lining these walls he knows the titles and the format, thus possessing the only exact knowledge which may be acquired in a library. | -France |
| (Cataloging decisions) | He that casteth all doubts, will never be resolved. | -Thomas Fuller |
| (Consistency) | A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of small minds. | -Emerson |
| (Detail or short form) | The secret of boring people is to say everything. | -Voltaire |
| | A thing which is not worth doing at all is not worth doing well. | -Wakeman |
| | I try to be brief, and I become obscure. | -Horace |
| (Subject headings) | How forcible are right words. | -Job vi,25 |
| (Recataloging) | Where it is not necessary to change, it is necessary not to change. | -Lucius Cary |
| (Reviser's groan) | Details are always vulgar. | -Wilde |
| (The user) | By their fruits ye shall know them. | -Matthew vii,20 |
| | | -Karl A. Baer, in Wilson Library Bulletin. |

Sincerely,

Helen Hefling

LIBRARY BOOK LIST

Vacation Reading!

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

With the end of the school year approaching, we wish that this might have been a bibliography of vacation-reading-for-pleasure, but the books and materials received and cataloged have not been for light summer reading. Instead, we submit the books we have had to catalog and offer you some good, sound, extra-curricular reading in nearly every field for your leisure hours. The newest books acquired in each subject have been included, e.g., Northrop's The Logic of the Sciences and Humanities (c1947), Sorokin's Reconstruction of Society (c1948), Leven's Nomography (c1948), Conklin's A History of Hamlet Criticism (c1947), Scheele's The Weimer Republic (1946).

A New McAnally.

Perry Arthur McAnally arrived May 4, 1948 to help fill a temporary vacancy in the McAnally household. So far, he has been of little assistance to the Library.

Mrs. Frieda Lawrence and the Tedlock Bibliography.

Mrs. Frieda Lawrence has written of her early May visit to Albuquerque and the Library tea: "You gave me such a wonderful time, it has made me happy for days." She was a most gracious and interesting guest. Mr. Tedlock's book "The Frieda Lawrence Collection of D. H. Lawrence Manuscripts" is to have a feature review in an early June issue of the Saturday Review of Literature, according to word sent to the University Press.

A Librarian's Glossary (from Focus on Indiana's Libraries)

- Library Budget - The amount of money designated - no matter how large, you should spend more than.
- Board Meeting - Sometimes Board can be spelled another way.
- Call Slips - Scratch paper for the public.
- Borrower's Card - The card the borrower leaves at home when he goes to the library.
- Contests and Quiz Programs - A Reference Librarian's nightmare.
- Dewey Decimal System - Logic gone rampant or The numbers game for librarians.
- Loan Desk - A place not to be right after school is out in the P.M.
- C. B. I. - To Order Librarians this means check books indefinitely.
- Readers' Guide - The place the readers guide you to look for something they want.
- Pamphlet File - A convenient place to file things that you don't know what else to do with.

Vacation?

We shall give you a vacation from Book Lists, but we shall go on working just the same. Books will continue to come in and be processed all through the summer, so we hope to have ready for the fall term all the books you wish to use.

Sincerely yours,

Helen Hefling
